"THE ANGLE LAMP"

THE LIGHT THAT NEVER FAILS.
It seems almost incredible that any lamp could be good enough to take the place of electricity on even terms, yet such is the case with the ANGLE LAMP. All over the Islands people are throwing away their old lamps and replacing them with this lamp, not merely because it costs about one-tenth as much to maintain (cost is no object to some people) but, being infinitely cheaper, it is more brilliant and more reliable in the bargain. It is a revelation to every one who uses it and simply demonstrates that the old-fashioned lamp was a barbarous contrivance. THE ANGLE LAMP never smokes, smells or gives any trouble. It is lighted and extinguished as easily as gas, and in the light fr. in every standpoint. We carry these lamps from $1.50 up.

BECKLEY SCORES THE SENATE

At the afternoon's session the House, after an hour's debate, decided to return the Senate communication about the legality of its vote on the Senate amendments to the session expense appropriation bill. Beckley and Makenau who were absent in the morning, furnished the oratory.

Beckley made a long speech in English the most of which was not translated, declaring that the Senate had no right to interfere. As to the $20,000 the Senate wanted, he declared they had not the bills to use it up and did not need it but that if the money were voted in five minutes time, the Senate would manufacture enough bills to use it up. The Senate, although having but fifteen members had spent more money than the House had spent. The House had fixed its prices in accordance with rates established by previous legislatures while the Senate rates for translating had been simply robbery of which the luau last Saturday night was evidence. This reference to Interpreter Bush's sudden prosperity brought down the House. Makenau tried to defend the Senate but Beckley fired a lot of Latin at him to prove his point and the House unanimously voted to return the "opinion" rendered by the Senate as superfluous to the needs of the House.

Another attempt to adjourn for three days failed and the House adjourned to meet as usual this morning.
